Setting Goals

Contributed by Rhainon Townsend

First off, what is a goal? A goal is a desired result. Setting goals is something everyone should do.

Why is it important to set goals? You need to set a goal so you have the motivation with long-term vision. It keeps you organized with positive results. It also helps you make the most of your life.

Goals give you focus and keep you on the trail. You can have all the potential in the world but without focus, your abilities and talents are useless. Goals keep you locked in and minimizes distraction. By setting goals you give yourself
