

High profile acts of violence, particularly in schools, can confuse and frighte(c) 7 (a)2 (n) 7 -T 7 (n) 2 (f) 0 -0 time. However, some children may be at risk for more intense reactions. Children who have had a past traumatic experience or personal loss, suffer from depression or other mental illness, or with special needs may be at greater risk for severe reactions than others. Seek the help of mental health professional if you are at all concerned.

6. Limit television viewing and be aware if the television is on in common areas. Developmentally inappropriate information can cause anxiety or confusion, particularly in young child